Trial

Trials are not compulsory but highly recommended, without a trial I cannot accept responsibility if a desired style or look does not meet expectations on the wedding day.

The Bridal trial prices start from £80 and normally take between 2-3 hours depending on the amount of looks you have so please bear this in mind if others from your party also require a trial.

Trials are usually held at Silhouette Du Barry salon in Chelmsford City Centre

Trials are normally only available on Wednesdays and Fridays; alternative arrangements are available depending on my bridal schedule.

For your wedding date to be held an immediate payment, non-refundable £25 deposit will be required, the deposit is then deducted from the full trial balance.

Please be aware without a deposit I cannot hold your wedding date.

Trial Payments are fine on the day or I'm happy to accept this any time prior. There is no obligation after all trials.

Final Quotation

After the Trials I will provide you with an accurate cost for you and your wedding party, I will send you a quotation via email and if you're happy we will proceed to booking your date.

Once you are 100% happy with the trials and the quotation received a 25% of the wedding day cost is required to finally secure the wedding day in my diary.

Final Payment

The remaining balance must be paid no later than one week before the wedding day unless agreed prior. Should no payment be received I have the right to cancel all services for your wedding date and all fees will still be payable

I will only ever take one bridal booking per day meaning you are my only and main priority.
